Our Cruise Vessels

The MV Naiad Explorer is owned by Bill and Donna Mackay of Port McNeill and operates exclusive charters and whale watching excursions throughout British Columbia's coastal waters. The ship is 55 feet long and is powered by twin Volvo-Penta D12 engines with 615 horsepower each. The lower deck has ample enclosed seating in case of inclement weather and there is an outdoor rear deck and an upper deck for excellent viewing. Visitors are welcome on the bridge and you can even take a turn steering. The Naiad Explorer was built in 1999 by the Mackays and incorporated specific features for whale watching such as quiet engines to minimize underwater noise. With a cruising speed of 30 knots, the Naiad Explorer is a very fast vessel and is capable of travelling great distances in a day, including the length of Knight Inlet. Another benefit of her powerful engines is that she can hold a position in the Nakwakto tidal rapids, allowing a thrilling view of this amazing coastal phenomenon.

Desolation Sound is explored during a three-hour excursion with Zodiacs operated by the Lund Hotel. The small size, maneuverability, and minimal draft allow the boats to enter shallow areas and narrow passages. The boats are open-air and do not have bathroom facilities. This excursion will be cancelled if weather or ocean conditions are inclement. If you wish to opt out of this trip, there is a reduction of $75 per person offered, and you can spend the afternoon at the Beach Gardens Hotel in Powell River.

Three vessels, each carrying 10 or 12 passengers, are used for the voyage up Jervis Inlet to Malibu Lodge and into Princess Louisa Fjord. All have indoor seating. They are operated by Bryce Christie, owner of Sunshine Coast Tours and a long-time captain on the British Columbia coast.

Wells Gray Tours has previously offered other small ship excursions that have circled Quadra and Cortes Islands, explored fjords and narrow channels as far north as Kelsey Bay, and cruised in the Gulf Islands and San Juan Islands. This will be our 10th cruise to spectacular Princess Louisa Fjord, our 8th cruise up Knight Inlet, British Columbia's longest fjord; also our 8th trip into Desolation Sound, and our 6th cruise to experience the wild rush of the Nakwakto tidal rapids. Of the seven days on this tour, 3½ days are devoted to cruising the sheltered waters near Vancouver Island. Come and join this unique tour, cruising some fabulous scenic waterways.

This tour is limited to 32 passengers to ensure comfort for everyone on the vessels.

Itinerary

Sunday, May 28:

A transfer is provided to Nanaimo where we meet the Interior travellers. Then we drive north on the Island Highway, past Campbell River to Port McNeill and stay two nights at the Haida Way Motor Inn.

Monday, May 29:

Meals: B,L

We board the Naiad Explorer for the first of four exciting ocean experiences. We cruise north across Queen Charlotte Strait and Labouchere Passage to the mainland. Today's timing is important so we can experience the thrilling tidal rush through the Nakwakto Rapids. Here the waters of Seymour Inlet (58 km long) and Belize Inlet (40 km long) surge through the 300-metre wide gap. With the benefit of the Naiad's big engines, we cruise right into the tidal flow and have a sensational vantage point as the usually calm ocean comes to life like a giant rushing river. The spectacle happens twice a day, but a combination of factors makes May 29 one of the best days in 2017 to experience the Nakwakto Rapids as the tide is ebbing (flowing out of the fjords) and predicted to reach the awesome speed of 13 knots at 10:30 am. These are the fastest tidal rapids in the world, according to Guinness. The boiling waters collide with Turret Island, nicknamed Tremble Island. The rapids were discovered by explorers under the command of Captain Pender in 1865 and named for the local Indian tribe. Today's voyage also includes Wells Pass and Blunden Harbour, made famous by an Emily Carr painting, before we return to Port McNeill.

Tuesday, May 30:

Meals: B,L

Today we head to Knight Inlet, British Columbia's longest fjord at 113 km. Captain Vancouver, during his 1792 expedition, was impressed with "the high stupendous mountains rising perpendicularly from the water's edge" and named the fjord for John Knight, a British naval officer. The route goes past Village Island (an old First Nations village), then through Beware Pass to see the pictographs on Turnour Island. After Minstrel Island and Clio Channel, we pause at Cutler Cove estuary for possible sightings of grizzly bears. The Naiad's powerful engines make short work of the journey up Knight Inlet to Cascade Falls which plunges directly into the ocean. Here, deep in the Coast Mountains, we are almost at the foot of giant Mount Waddington, British Columbia's highest mountain. During the return ride, we stop at the Glendale River estuary for another chance to see grizzly bears, then we weave through the Broughton Archipelago to Fife looking for Steller sea lions. Heading back to Port McNeill, we finish another day of splendid coastal scenery. Then we drive south to Campbell River and stay overnight at the Coast Discovery Inn.

Wednesday, May 31: Meals: B,L,D

We catch the 10 am ferry from Comox to Powell River, then drive to the end of Highway 101 at Lund. Desolation Sound is British Columbia's largest marine park, established in 1973, and attracts recreational boaters from around the world because of its magnificent scenery, pleasant summer climate, unusually warm waters, numerous sheltered harbours, and the snowcapped peaks of the Coast Mountains which rise over 2,400 metres from the water. Captain George Vancouver saw it differently two centuries ago when he described these waters as "forlorn" and "desolate". Our three-hour excursion in Zodiacs visits sights such as Squirrel Cove, Roscoe Bay and Copeland Islands. Note the option (previous page) to not participate in this excursion. Back in Powell River, we stay overnight at the oceanfront Beach Gardens Resort. Tonight, take a stroll beside the ocean and enjoy the splendid setting.

Thursday, June 1: Meals: B,L

We ride the ferry across Jervis Inlet to Earls Cove. This is a day of dramatic sights as we explore one of British Columbia's best known fjords. Departing from Egmont, we cruise for two hours up Jervis Inlet past soaring peaks and waterfalls that cascade directly into the ocean. Malibu Narrows is the location of historic Malibu Lodge, an impressive log structure that was an exclusive retreat for Hollywood celebrities in the 1940s and is now a popular church camp. The narrows and tidal rapids mark the entrance to Princess Louisa Fjord and, from here on, the sheer cliffs rise thousands of feet out of the water. The vessels dock at the upper end of the fjord and we have time ashore to admire the thundering cascade of Chatterbox Falls. Princess Louisa was Queen Victoria's mother, but the native name "Sway-oo-lat" means "facing the rising sun's rays". A picnic lunch is served at the falls. Back at Egmont, we drive south along the Sunshine Coast to Sechelt and stay overnight at the Driftwood Inn on the waterfront.

Friday, June 2:

We board a morning ferry from Langdale to Horseshoe Bay. Our mini-bus to Victoria meets the coach and we ride the ferry to Swartz Bay.
