Our Cruise Vessels

Knight Inlet & Nakwakto Rapids — MV Naiad Explorer operates exclusive charters and whale watching excursions throughout British Columbia's coastal waters. The ship is 17 metres long and is powered by twin Volvo-Penta D12 engines with 615 horsepower each. The lower deck has ample enclosed seating in case of inclement weather and there is an outdoor rear deck and an upper deck for excellent viewing. Naiad Explorer was built in 1999 and quiet engines were installed to minimize underwater noise for whales. With a cruising speed of 30 knots, the Naiad Explorer is a very fast vessel and is capable of travelling great distances in a day, including the length of Knight Inlet. Another benefit of her powerful engines is that she can hold a position in Nakwakto tidal rapids, allowing a thrilling view of this amazing coastal phenomenon.

Desolation Sound — British Columbia's largest marine park, established in 1973, attracts recreational boaters from around the world because of its magnificent scenery, pleasant summer climate, unusually warm waters, numerous sheltered harbours, and the snowcapped peaks of the Coast Mountains which rise over 2,400 metres from the water. Captain George Vancouver saw it differently two centuries ago when he described these waters as "forlorn" and "desolate". Our five-hour excursion from Lund visits sights such as Squirrel Cove, Roscoe Bay, and Copeland Islands, and dinner is served along the way. Two vessels for 12 passengers each are used; both have indoor seating and washroom. The small size, maneuverability, and minimal draft allow the boats to enter shallow areas and narrow passages. Also see box below.

Princess Louisa Fjord — Three vessels, each carrying 10 or 12 passengers, are used for the voyage up Jervis Inlet to Malibu Lodge, through the narrows of Malibu Rapids, and into Princess Louisa Fjord. A stop is made at Chatterbox Falls where lunch is served on shore. All have indoor seating.

All vessels are operated by long-time captains with lots of experience on the B.C. coast.

Wells Gray Tours has previously offered other small ship excursions that have circled Quadra and Cortes Islands, explored fjords and narrow channels as far north as Kelsey Bay, and cruised in the Gulf Islands and San Juan Islands. This will be our 13th cruise to spectacular Princess Louisa Fjord, our 11th trip up Knight Inlet, British Columbia's longest fjord, and our 9th cruise to experience the wild rush of the Nakwakto tidal rapids. Of the seven days on this tour, four days are devoted to cruising the sheltered waters near Vancouver Island. Come and join this unique tour, cruising some fabulous scenic waterways.

This tour is limited to 32 passengers to ensure comfort for everyone on the vessels.

Desolation Sound Opt-out: You can opt out of this cruise and your fare is reduced by $130 each. Instead, a walking tour of historic Lund is offered with a local guide including an art gallery visit. Dinner is included at Beach Gardens Hotel in Powell River. The two vessels carry 24 passengers. Early bookers get first choice of the boat trip or the opt out. It is possible that late bookers will not have a choice.

Itinerary

Friday, June 5: Meals: L
For a change from the familiar Coquihalla, we drive down the Fraser Canyon and ride the Hells Gate Air Tram across the boiling rapids of the mighty Fraser River. We stay overnight at the Inn at Westminster Quay overlooking the Fraser River.

Saturday, June 6: Meals: B
After riding the ferry to Nanaimo, we drive through Campbell River to Port McNeill and stay two nights at the Haida Way Motor Inn.

Sunday, June 7: Meals: B,L
We board Naiad Explorer for the first of four exciting ocean experiences — a cruise up Knight Inlet, British Columbia's longest fjord at 113 km. Captain Vancouver, during his 1792 expedition, was impressed with "the high stupendous mountains rising perpendicularly from the water's edge" and named the fjord for John Knight, a British naval officer. The route goes past Village Island (an old First Nations village), then through Beware Pass to see pictographs on Turnour Island. After Minstrel Island and Clio Channel, we pause at Cutler Cove estuary for possible sightings of grizzly bears. The Naiad's powerful engines make short work of the journey up Knight Inlet to Cascade Falls which plunges directly into the ocean. Here, deep in the Coast Mountains, we are almost at the foot of giant Mount Waddington, British Columbia's highest mountain. During the return ride to Port McNeill, we may stop at the Glendale River estuary for another chance to see grizzly bears, then we weave through the Broughton Archipelago looking for Steller sea lions, and finish a day of splendid coastal scenery.

Monday, June 8:Meals: B,L

We cruise north across Queen Charlotte Strait and Labouchere Passage to the mainland. Today's timing is important so we can experience the thrilling tidal rush through the Nakwakto Rapids. Here the waters of Seymour Inlet (58 km long) and Belize Inlet (40 km long) surge through the 300-metre wide gap. With the benefit of the Naiad's big engines, we cruise right into the tidal flow and have a sensational vantage point as the usually calm ocean comes to life like a giant rushing river. The spectacle happens twice a day, but a combination of factors makes June 8 one of the best days in 2020 to experience the Nakwakto Rapids as the tide is ebbing (flowing out of the fjords) and predicted to reach the awesome speed of 13.5 knots at 9:18 am. These are the fastest tidal rapids in the world, according to Guinness. The rapids were discovered by explorers under the command of Captain Pender in 1865 and named for the local Indian tribe. After returning to Port McNeill, we drive south to Campbell River and stay overnight at the Coast Discovery Inn.

Tuesday, June 9:Meals: B,L,D

We catch the 10 am ferry from Comox to Powell River, then drive to the end of Highway 101 at Lund. Our destination by boat is Desolation Sound and we spend five hours cruising among these islands and waterways with dinner on board. Note the option (previous page) to opt out of this cruise and take a guided walk in Lund with a visit to an art gallery. We stay overnight in Powell River at the oceanfront Beach Gardens Resort.

Wednesday, June 10:Meals: B,L

We ride the ferry across Jervis Inlet to Earls Cove. This is a day of dramatic sights as we explore one of British Columbia's best known fjords. Leaving Egmont, we cruise for two hours up Jervis Inlet past soaring peaks and waterfalls that cascade directly into the ocean (see photo on first page). Malibu Narrows is the location of historic Malibu Lodge, an impressive log structure that was an exclusive retreat for Hollywood celebrities in the 1940s and is now a popular church camp. The narrows mark the entrance to Princess Louisa Fjord and, from here on, the sheer cliffs rise a thousand metres out of the water. The vessels dock at the upper end of the fjord and we have time ashore to admire the thundering cascade of Chatterbox Falls. Princess Louisa was Queen Victoria's mother, but the native name "Sway-oo-lat" means "facing the rising sun's rays". A picnic lunch is served at the falls. Back at Egmont, we drive south along the Sunshine Coast to Sechelt and stay overnight at the Driftwood Inn on the waterfront.

Thursday, June 11:Meals: L

We board a morning ferry from Langdale to Horse-shoe Bay, then travel home to the Okanagan, Kamloops and Salmon Arm.
